Online ad specs

IRE uses IAB standard ad sizes and formats. File size must be 40KB or less. Submit ad via email; please include desired click-through URL.

*Site rotation ads display on multiple pages (excluding the main page) on a rotating basis with other ads of the same size. IRE reserves the right to restrict advertising placement on any of its online or electronic content.

The IRE Journal

The IRE Journal, the award-winning magazine of Investigative Reporters and Editors, Inc., is published four times a year and contains journalist profiles, how-to stories, reviews, investigative ideas and backgrounding tips. Our audience is journalists from all media, journalism educators or students who want to hone their investigative skills— from tried-and-true Watchdog fundamentals to the latest innovations that help you get the story. The answers come from the reporters, editors or producers writing in the Journal about their own experiences with investigative projects.
